Canada at the 2002 Chess Olympiads

This is just a short update. A full report will appear in the next Issue. The Olympiad is in Bled, Slovenia, from Oct. 26 to Nov. 10. The national team is composed of GM Alexandre Le Siege, GM Kevin Spraggett, IM Pascal Charbonneau, IM Yan Teplitsky, IM Mark Bluvshtein and IM Jean Hebert. In the first 5 rounds, the team has done quite well, and has won 4 of the 5 matches. It has 11.5 pts./20.

The women's team is composed of WIM Nava Starr, 2002 Ontario Closed Women's Champion, Dina Kagramanov, WFM Amanda Benggawan, and former Quebec Women's Closed Champion, Dinara Khazieva. They have won 3/5 matches, and have 8/15 pts.

Deep Fritz Ties Kramnik !

The “ Brains in Bahrain “ match between classical World Champion, Vladimir Kramnik ( Russia ), and last year's Computer Chess Program Champion, Deep Fritz, was an 8 game match, played October 4 – 19. The program is one developed by the German company, ChessBase, and was running on a multi-processor. The prize fund was $ 1 million.

Kramnik led 3 : 2, after the first five games we reported on last Issue, having won 2 ( Games 2 & 3 ), drawn 2 ( Games 1 & 4 ) and lost 1 ( Game 5 ). But Fritz came back with a win in Game 6, and draws in Games 7 & 8 , to tie the match.

(6) Kramnik,V (2807) – DEEP FRITZ [E15]

Brains in Bahrain Manama BAH (6), 15.10.2002

This game will be subject to much analysis. Kramnik had a chance to win the exchange, but instead decided to attack. He sacked his Knight for a K-side P on move 19. But then Kramnik realized that the computer had a brilliant defence of 28...Bh4 if Kramnik had tried the obvious attack, and so he had to abandon the original line, and the attack fizzled out.

Here Kramnik resigned. But subsequent analysis has shown, so far, that though badly off, Kramnik still had drawing chances, had he played on. In that case, he would have won the match !!

2002 FIDE World Cup

This is one of FIDE's top individual championships, other than the World Championship. There is a separate mixed cup, and women's cup. It was played in Hyderabad, India, from October 9 – 20. Although a number of top players did not come, the field was still formidable, with names such as Anand, Ivanchuk, Short, Dreev, Radjabov, Azmaiparashvili, Sasikiran, Kasimdzhanov, Beliavsky, Morozhevich, etc. The main tournament starts off with 4 6-player preliminary groups in a round robin. Then the top 2 from each group go into the 4 2-game quarter final matches. In the quarter finals : Anand defeated Malakhov; Beliavsky defeated Rublevsky; Dreev defeated Short; and Kasimdzhanov defeated Ye Jiangchuan.

In the semi-final 2 – game matches : Kasimdzhanov defeated Beliavsky ; and Anand defeated Dreev.

In the final 2-game match, Anand was victorious – 1/2; 0-1. This is his second straight year winning this tournament, and he has again established himself as the third – ranked player in world chess.

The Women's Cup champion was last year's champion, Xu Yuhua.

FIDE 2002 October Rating List

Once again, as has been the case since July 2001, only 2 players are over 2800 : #1 : Garry Kasparov ( Russia ), 13th FIDE World Champion – 2838, and #2 :Vladimir Kramnik ( Russia ), 2000 BrainGamesNetwork World Champion – 2807.

There are 10 players in the 2700's . # 3 is still Viswanathan Anand ( India ), 2000 FIDE World Champion - 2755; still at # 4, and only 10 points behind Anand, is Michael Adams ( England ) – 2745; # 5 : Veselin Topalov ( Bulgaria ) – 2743; tied with him, and moving up to # 6 from # 8 last list is Peter Leko ( Hungary ), the winner of the 2002 Dortmund World Championship Candidates tournament, who will play Kramnik for the World Championship next year - 2743; # 7 : tied with Topalov and Leko, is Ruslan Ponomariov ( Ukraine ), 2002 FIDE World Champion – 2743 ( he has been one of SCTCN&V's " terrible '83'er's " –only 18 years old on Jan. 1, 2002, and we've been watching them for some time as up and comers ).

Still at # 12 is another SCTCN&V " terrible '83'er ", Alexander Grischuk ( Russia ) – 2702. 1999 FIDE World Champion, Alexander Khalifman ( Russia ) is # 14 at 2690. 12 th FIDE World Champion, Anatoly Karpov ( Russia ) is # 17 at 2688. Judit Polgar, the world's strongest woman player, is # 18 at 2685.

The third " terrible ' 83'er " we've been watching is Etienne Bacrot ( France ), who is still # 37 at 2653. Two other youngsters we're watching are : Francisco Vallejo Pons ( Spain ), has dropped from # 42 to # 50 at 2635; and 14 year old Teimour Radjabov ( Azerbaijan ), has moved up from # 73 to # 61 at 2618. The # 100 player is rated 2601, up from 2600.

The highest FIDE-rated Canadian player is former Canadian champion, Kevin Spraggett at 2533. Right behind him is 2001 Canadian Champion, Alexandre Le Siege at 2531, down from 2584 on the July list.
